SAXTON LEADS THE ANTI-MORTON MEN, The Big Project of a Real Es-

the Interest of the Mc-Kinley Movement.

Kings County Delegates Are Communicating with Congressman Grosvenor, of Ohio.

ben going about ever since the "Easy Boss" announced his attitude on the Greater New York bill. The secession sentiment was augmented by Mr. Platt's attempt to control the nominating conventions so as to send a solid State delegation to St. control the nominating conventions so as to send a solid State delegation to St. Louis, ostensibly to suport Governor Morton's candidacy for the Presidential nomination, but in reality to be manipulated

Mr. Platt to further his personal aims. Even ante-dating these considerations, wever, a feeling of resentment existed minst the rule of Mr. Platt, which had s inception in the reform movement that tarted in Brooklyn four years ago. It is now certain that the Republicans of Brooklyn will break from the Platt machine immediately after, if not prior to, the National Convention.

The opponents of Mr. Platt have two objects in view in agitating a revolt now. One is to create so powerful a sentiment in layer of McKinley prior to the conven-tion as to cause a split in the State delegation, thus impairing Mr. Platt's influence in both State and National politics, and the other is to give the bolters, or Inde-pendent Republicans, as they will call themselves, prestige enough to enable them to dictate the next State ticket.

Lieutenant-Governor Saxton, who aspires to succeed Mr. Morton in the gubernatorial chair, is at the head and front of the revolt. Mr. Saxton visited Brooklyn yester-day and conferred with several of the rebellious lenders. From this it need not be inferred that Brooklyn Is the centre of the revolt. Buñalo, where the first break was made from the Platt influence in instructing delegates for Morton, has that distinction. But the Brooklyn Republicans, whose conventions have already been held and hose delegates have been instructed for Morton, do not propose to be left out in the cold. They have had suspicious of Mr. Platt from the first, and have been wavering in their allegiance to Governor Morton

Last week the Kings County delegates sent a letter to Congressman Grosvenor, one of Major McKinley's managers, informing him that as soon as they became positive that Governor Morton could not be nominated they would, prior to the conven-tion, openly renounce Mr. Platt's leadership and advocate Governor McKinley's

Lieutenant-Governor Saxton's visit to Brooklyn yesterday had for its direct object the perfecting of arrangements under which the Kings County Republicans should mate their change of front. But coupled with this was the purpose of building up his own political fences. If Mr. Platt's Influence is broken, Mr. Saxton, who will lend the revolt, will be the logical candi-date for Governor. And even if Mr. Platt persists in attempting to control the State nominations next Fall, the independents bewith fair prospects of success. In any event it will be demonstrated that Mr. Platt is no longer the suppose. lieve that they will then be strong enough to put a ticket of their own in the field

RECEIVER ELY QUALIFIES. Spencer Trask Explains Why the "Times" Specifics Is to Be Reorganized.

Mr. Alfred Ely qualified as receiver of the Times Publishing Company yesterday, filing his bond for $50,000. Men in a position to know say that President Miller and tion to know say that President Miller and those members of the Board of Directors who oppose the proposed consolidation of the Times and Recorder determined to block the consolidation by throwing the Times into the hands of a receiver.

Colonel George Turner, of the Recorder Company, is out of the city, and none of his representatives at the Recorder office was authorized to speak for him.

Mr. Spencer Trask, chairman of the Recorder office was authorized to speak for him.

Mr. Spencer Trask, chairman of the Recorder office was authorized to speak for him.

After the receivership is in the interests of all the stockholders, who wished to preserve the Times as a decent, dignified, independent newspaper. A plan of reorganization had been settled upon and financial arrangements made which it was found impossible to carry out without legal proceedings, and the Court has intervened in the interest of all concerned to preserve he property as now existing."

IT MAKES A NOVEL DISPLAY. nteresting Exhibition of Beautiful Household Goods at McHugh's.

A very interesting place to visit these days of housefurnishing is McHugh's Popular Shop, on Forty-second street, near Fifth avenue. The novel arrangement of Pitth avenue. The no sel arrangement of the many rooms, each Gevoted to its specialty, is evidence that a master of his afthas full sway. There is a Louis XVI. drawing room, an Italian Renaissance library, a Marie Antoinette bedroom, a Moorish smoking room, a children's room, a green room, mahogany, velvet, blue Delift and Japanese rooms. It these the collections of draperies, odd furniture and curique with a clinating display. Every luch of space is utilized in showing the erect of the different ideas of decorating, the ensemble of which is thoroughly artisic. So complete is the arrangement that one can select the entire furnishing of a room, including wall papering, draperies, rigs, furniture and drapery includes Japanese and domestic wicker, and very odd effects in natural wood, uphoistered in materials especially appropriate for Summer. Liberty chintz for hangings and cushious, colonial striped curtains to match, denims, yacht canvas for the seats, and curtains, Cadro lattice cloth, and gondola striped diapery, suggesting the Venetian, are prominent in the materials to be used this senson, A visit to McHugh's Popular Shop is an event to be remembered. There is no other place like it in New York.—Advi.
